

Josh along with his wife Jamie, and daughters Olivia and Aubree, call Maplekey Farms home in Woodstock, Ontario. Josh operates the farm milking 40 cows together with his father and brother. Josh has enjoyed the opportunity to judge County Holstein Shows, numerous 4-H shows, and Breeders' Cups throughout Ontario. Some highlights of judging are the Elgin County Black and White Show, EastGen Challenge in Markham, as well as being asked to be the Associate Judge for the Autumn Opportunity Show. Josh has also in the past enjoyed fitting cattle professionally, travelling throughout more than a dozen different countries for this in the process. Outside of the farm and showing Josh enjoys spending time with family and is involved with JDRF as a member of Team Olivia McKay. Team Olivia is a group that raises money for charity, centered to juvenile diabetes research.
